In place of the once popular club “Dzhakata”, Franco and Elena Cazadei (owners of the café “Venice”), opened a school with Italian food, rock n roll, motorcycles, and the most delicious ice cream in the city, which can bring in pretty colored kremanki flowers. It is sold behind a glass counter in the hall with Vespa scooters and the interior is set up as a 1950’s American style. It gives one a feel of the 50’s and the next generation to come.

The red and white-checked tablecloths and green awning stripes, yellow curtains, pastel-colored walls, and wooden chairs adorn the interior. White sofas, low tables, neon lights, motorbike racing suits and other great motorcycles adorn the second hall.

The basement is plain, but has an important shrine, an ancient Ducati bike. The décor of this place is sleek and powerful, but also very cozy and charming. The menu mainly contains pizza and pasta, but paninis, toasted sandwiches, and snacks are also very tasty at “CAFFE ITALIA”. Italia promises to give the best quality for every customer, and offers some of the best Italian food you have ever had before. The prices are good and so is the atmosphere.
