

{joomplu:1844}

If you are looking for a Turkish café in St. Petersburg, look no further. Café Galata is a cozy café in the center of St. Petersburg, which has gourmet sweets and amazing Turkish dishes. When coming to café Galata, you will find yourself in modern Turkish café that promises to have great hospitality and the best Turkish food in the city.

Another highlight of the café is that the chefs are directly from Turkey. The chefs are professionals who know the secrets and correct ways to prepare Turkish food. More than 15 kinds of Turkish baklava, baked goods and Turkish coffee can be found at Galata, as well as live broadcasts of Turkish football matches in Turkish.

Café Galata has Sunday breakfast buffets from 11:00 to 14:00, and on the weekdays, Turkish and Russian business lunches are from 12:00 to 16:00. In addition to the amazing food, coffee prices are reasonable and the coffee is really nice. There is also a small grocery store in which the café owns.

Business hours: 11:00 to 23:00 Address: Metro station Technologichisky Institute, Izmailovsky Prospect, 2 . Average check: 500 RUB

{joomplu:1845}{joomplu:1846}{joomplu:1847}

View Larger Map

- Back to St-Petersburg restaurants